Solution

The Super Flat Project it's focused on one person: Graham Hill. The target and the aim of the idea it is to identify the space with its main user and the customer of this architecture creation. After a intensive survey through the world wide web, I realized that Graham had a wide public life uploaded in the net, so I thought it was important to focus the idea on him, in order to create an specific project specialized in supporting the different lifestyles that G.Hill has. Moreover I covered all the briefing demands asked for this competition.

I have taken the space as a multipurpose open free area, that must be ready for all the different activities that Graham use to de develop every day as the multifunctional person he is. The office free working life style he has claims a space ready for fast changes from private areas to shareable spaces, with professional atmospheres or more friendly and
