

1/2 Silver Rabbit

silver rabbit slides down the icy hill at top speed chasing the snowball of hope.

Solution

I wanted to create a poster around the idea of hope. I love Japanese poems so I searched around for one I really liked.

I chose soft pastel colors because I think they complement the light, dreamy poem. I thought that since I want people to hang the poster in their rooms, I'd create something that transport hope rather than something too grim and gloomy.

Hope Y'all like it - and I made it because I promised teigan I'd submit something to the next Open Zone contest ;-)

PS: can you see the rabbit?
