

1/2 good vibrations

The concept shows the changes of the restaurant using vibrations of different elements that compound the atmosphere: the intensity and the colour of light, the height of the ceilings, elements that create smaller dining rooms.

Solution

The concept shows the transformations of a undivided space in different areas: the result is obtained with vibrations of different elements that compound the atmosphere: the intensity and the colour of light, the height of the ceilings, elements that create smaller dining rooms.

What about the ceiling ? the project of the space changes according to the functional destination: the dining space has lower height compared to the aisles to suggest the idea of a private space; in the lounge area the aim is to transmit sensation of space in movement using chandelier at different heights.

The space itself can be divided in different zones with movable panels that are, at the same time, expositors of art paintings: the perception of the space changes between breakfast-lunch-dinner and the number of seat too.

2/2

good vibrations

The concept shows the changes of the restaurant using vibrations of different elements that compound the atmosphere: the intensity and the colour of light, the height of the ceilings, elements that create smaller dining rooms.

Creative's profile

marcoquaranta PRO
architect

Creative's top 5 skills

Illustration, Product Design

Collaborators

Lele85
architect

anna85
architect