

1/2 WHAT IS GOOD IN YOUR LIFE?

I asked people what is good in their lives, then I asked them to write it on a post-it.

Solution

I put those words to places, where people basically need to spend a lot of time. For example bus stations, waiting rooms, corridors and my friends own windows. With the usage of post-its in their original function I aim to remind people of the good things in everyday life. I ask everybody I meet wherever I go. I collect people's good things, thoughts and moments on those sticky notes and I upload every day one, anonymously on this blog: <http://goodinyourlife.tumblr.com/>
