Mountains Sunrise

What does your design show?

Grids of thin lines in primary colors intersect at different angles to create a polygonal pattern of many different hues.

What is the unique idea about your design?

Watching the sun cast more and more colorful light on a mountain range while it rises, is an unique experience. My design aims to capture in an abstract way this feast of colors on jagged mountaintops.

Is there a special story behind your design?

I deliberately decided to use a non figurative design to create a classic pattern that would appeal to many different users. The knife becomes a fashionable accessory that complements any classic outfit; Like a pocket square to a suit.
