

1/5 Granny told me

A delicate but yet powerful and beautiful flowery design.

Solution

This is a design inspired in my grandma's carpets. I search all around my house and start thinking in all the time she spent knitting them. I though she must have really enjoy it because the results are beautiful. This is what I want to represent here: the beauty and value of putting dedication and love in small details to come up with a big piece of art!

Why does your design stand out?

Because it has the delicacy of traditional lace and also my own interpretation of it. It has a combination of techniques. The flowers give the design power and energy! It can be perfectly use in many clothes and occasions. It is fun, messy, happy, enchanting, unpredictable and unconventional.

Only the carpets knitted by my grandma many years ago. I photograph them and then give them color and my own touch. Besides that all the rest is 100% mine.
