

1/7 Bridge to the River

This proposal seeks to repurpose the Linz railway bridge as a distinctive public art piece.

Solution

The structural units from the Linz railway bridge are to be rearranged in an ordered grid at varying heights so as to create the appearance of a flowing surface. The many parts work as one to form a unified artifact. The distinctive bridge which once welcomed boats making their way along the Danube would once again greet them from the bank of the river, a distinctive element in its own right. The sculpture intends to activate the waterfront park, an escape from the city within the city.

Status: 19.06.2018

Upcycle the Bridge

2/7

Bridge to the River

This proposal seeks to repurpose the Linz railway bridge as a distinctive public art piece.

What is the name of your concept?

Bridge to the River

3/7

Bridge to the River

This proposal seeks to repurpose the Linz railway bridge as a distinctive public art piece.

Which of the three suggested areas are you choosing for your concept? (the Donaulände public park, the port area or the mouth of Traun River)?

The port area

4/7

Bridge to the River

This proposal seeks to repurpose the Linz railway bridge as a distinctive public art piece.

What is the public function of your concept?

Besides functioning as a work of art, the piece is intended to be a catalyst for social activity. It is intended to be a place of impromptu social events from picnics to small performances to a simple walk in the park. The sculpture would still act as a 'bridge', bringing people from more active parts of the city to a new park by the river.

5/7

Bridge to the River

This proposal seeks to repurpose the Linz railway bridge as a distinctive public art piece.

How are the parts of the old railway bridge visible in your concept?

The work consists solely of repurposed structural units of the bridge.

6/7

Bridge to the River

This proposal seeks to repurpose the Linz railway bridge as a distinctive public art piece.

Have you used any third-party material? Even if you've modified it, source the original here. See FAQ for details.

No

Upcycle the Bridge

7/7

Bridge to the River

This proposal seeks to repurpose the Linz railway bridge as a distinctive public art piece.

Creative's profile

inaegele

inaegele