Solution

Dimensiva project was born from the desire to create something very useful for students, young interior designers, architects, 3d artists; and don't have time to make 3d objects or don't have money in that moment for this kind of investment. When I was student was so hard to find some free 3d neat models on the web, for my school projects. And I was thinking it's time for others to find more easily a nice place with 3D models and designs.
