

1/5 Was ist deine Arbeit wert?

what kind of reward do you want for your work ? (and what does this say about you/ and your work?)

Solution

crowdworking on platforms like jovoto is more kind of gambling than working for money. you could think that the need or aim of earning money can but not has to be contraproductive for creativity. should we differ work from montereiy rewards? or making money just for fun? is this the end? been valuated/ defined by rewards is difficult also in generally, because who in h*ll do you think you are to tell me who i am? :)

Please provide us with some background information on your visualization.

the dialogue between an employee and his employer points to the aspect that been paid for work more than often leads to a restriction: what do i have to do to get the money?
