Solution

NooDrops is a kitchen gadget that 3D prints custom nootropics based on data gathered from you.

Converging the innovation of health data collection tools, molecular-level 3D printing and the nootropic smart supplements trend into a practical kitchen gadget.

1 - Sync health data such as DNA analyses, daily check-ups, and fitness levels from partners such as 23andMe / FitBit / Apple Health. NooDrops will create a profile that understands your overall health status and limits. Through the app, NooDrops will load your life data and customize its creations to your profile.

2 - Load your NooDrops with its source materials. NooDrops source materials will be custom combined to create specific NooDrops for your lifestyle.

3 - Option 1: Choose an existing template to create a NooDrop. Enhance sleep, focus, memory,
