Solution

Nu3Bar (nutrition bar) is about having accessible machines in our homes, public places and food factories/restaurants, which create nutrition bars based on our own needs and preferences. The same way a coffee machine makes coffee the way we like it and the same way as bread machines allow us to make our unique dough products.

Nu3Bar would have several compartments for inserting different type of ingredients - nuts, cereals, dry fruits, honey, etc. The idea is that everyone could enjoy fully customized homemade nutrition bars everywhere they go.

The machines would have a lot of recipes by default to ease up the start and from there, people could take things into their own hands and experiment further.

Nu3Bar action combines different functions: milling, blending, layering, baking, even freezing. It will allow the creation of everyone's dream food bar.
