No matter where you are, it has become maddening to find a decent doctor who you can really trust. Just because a doctor is listed in your HMO or POS plan, doesn't mean they've passed a competency test. It simply means that the insurance plan and the doctor have made a business agreement to offer services at certain costs. So how can you decide which doctor is best for you? The same way thousands of people have already done it - Word of Mouth.

ZocDoc already includes patient reviews, but giving the business card of a doctor you like to a friend can mean more than all the 5 star reviews in the world. You now have a personal connection to the doctor through a trusted family member or friend.

If all ZocDoc doctors offered business cards that not only gave their own information, but also gave ZocDoc's number and website, word would begin to spread when each patient left the office with
