

1/8 THE ADAPTABLE CANVAS

A space that fits your needs, evolves according to your progression and stimulates your knowledge ..

Solution

In an ideal future our work space would be the convergence of two situations where the new meets the "house" and where at each moment we receive new inputs accompanied with "memories" that fix us to our roots and that allow us to produce creative pieces but with personality. Adaptable Canvas will do this, through a network of artificial intelligence sensors that will allow the recognition of each profile and the respective projection of dynamic and innovative environments without ever losing the personality of each user profile. Each creative / worker will be able to see their "ideal environment" be recreated but with a particularity, it will adapt to their state of mind, need, mood for that exact moment without ever losing the elements that keeps the personality characteristic of each creative , The elements and details that make us create something with our "mark" or stamp.

As we will have different creatives

Explain how it improves teamwork and solves the problems we encounter today:

Adaptable canvas will find the connecting points between each member of the team, through the intelligent recognition of the profile of each one, and create the favourable conditions to establish this "means of contact" between the different environments. Each team can grow or be reduced at any time because it is always being parameterised to respond to its maximum potential and can work physically or at long distance because recognition allows the environment to recreate.
