

1/2 Chile in Nogada - From Mexico (Puebla city)

Chile covered in nogada sauce, stuffed with meat and other ingredients. Original from Mexico

Solution

Hello! I'm Alberto and I'm 22. I live in Mexico, Puebla. I chose the food chile in nogada because it is a food that tastes very well accompanied by the family in December parties. My creative approach was to capture a food that would represent my country for its taste and gastronomic style, including the Talavera in the background

I think my design is the right one because the chile in nogada is a food served in special moments that brings together family and friends to celebrate the good times
