Solution

Can you tell I am a fan of color? :-)

I just wanted to introduce myself as I am: I'm Fulya—a 24-year-old communication designer based in Frankfurt, Germany. I am a great lover of color, textures and patterns, pretty things and kind act. Personally, I am a crazy vegan food and animal lover, who tries to make kind acts for the environment. Everything changed lately but I still hope we can all focus on our true colors and stay positive overall. Be kind to yourself :-)

When it comes to what I love professionally, I would say that I especially love packaging designs and corporate identities - feels like they bring brands and products to life. I mostly focus on creating kind designs. I try to combine my personal and professional skills to make a small impact :-)
